The United States lately sold at auction in Manchester, N. H., nearly 1800 pounds of butter smuggled from Canada. The Mirror remarks that the consignors maintain a discreet silence; they haven't lost any butter, and if the Government has found some, it is so much in.

Joseph Barnard tried an experiment to see how much corn he could raise on a single square rod of land; the result was two bushels of ears harvested the second day of September; the second day of October it was shelled and yielded 56½ pounds of corn, or at the rate of 160 bushels per acre.

Our wealth, our enterprise, our intelligence and our very virtue depend, in a large degree, upon our agriculture, and our agriculture is the result of experience. The business has grown from small beginnings and by slow degrees, until it has subdued forests and dried up morasses. It has raised our savage, plundering German and Anglo-Saxon ancestry to such habits of doing and having that their posterity, by sheer inheritance of character and possessions, now comprise the foremost nations of the world.

POTATO PLANTING.

The time is close at hand when the ground should be prepared for early potatoes; farmers generally are most successful with this crop upon sod land. After the sod has been turned over, manure may be spread broadcast, harrowed in, then furrow out three feet and a half apart; and if your potatoes have not been started in a hot-bed, and the sprouts are not showing themselves much, place them in a box behind the kitchen stove for a few days, but do not wait for the sprouts to grow to any extent, and be careful not to break them off. If the potatoes are of good size, cut them so as not to have more than two eyes in one cutting, but the largest potatoes will be obtained from one. Plant them in drills about one foot apart, using a little commercial fertilizer, as it is not only good for giving the plants a fair start, but also for driving away the worms which prey upon the potato when it nears maturity. Strong barn-yard manure, when placed in the hill, is a little apt to give a rank taste to the potato. Of the different varieties few are better than the Early Rose. The Early Vermont is claimed to be about ten days earlier than the rose, but when upon the table it is a matter of doubt whether any one can tell the difference. The Ohio ranks among the early varieties, and has been tested with the Early Rose and Vermont, and of those who have tried them all, if the question were put to the vote, the much-lauded Ohio would not have a greater number of friends than the other two varieties, but the price at which these several seeds are held over more common sorts will prevent them for a year or two from coming into general culture. The amateur farmer, who has money to spend, we recommend to try all new varieties of every kind of vegetable and fruit. The average cultivator, who farms for a living, can wait the decision of the amateurs, and in this manner he will find himself greatly indebted to the "gentleman farmer," of whom he sometimes speaks with contempt.

Grafting wax is made of four parts of rosin, one part of beeswax and one part of beef tallow. Melt them together in a skillet (which is the best) or a tin cup, and stir well. It should remain in the vessel and use as needed. Twenty or thirty scions can be waxed with one warming up. When much grafting is to be done, a little fire for heating the wax should be made on the spot, between two bricks or stones. At this time we do not remember of ever losing a graft by reason of the wax, if well applied. In a few weeks after the grafts have been set go over them and add a little wax wherever it may seem to need it, as the high winds may occasionally crack the wax.

National Republican Convention.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago on Thursday, the 3d day of June next, at 12 o'clock noon, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice-President at the next election. Republicans and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominees of the party are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia to represent them in the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON,
Chairman National Committee.
THOMAS B. KEOGH, Secretary.

FOGG'S FARRAGO.

The cheapest and thinnest of all the clap-trap put forth by the detested Fusion scamps, is the ten columns of froth blown out by Fogg in his Communist organ. The stuff is so utterly devoid of coherency or sense that it is humiliating even to notice it, but we will give a sample of this most pretentious plea of the conspirators.

In the Somerville case it will be remembered that the original return which gave the vote properly to Andrew R. G. Smith, the Republican candidate for Senator, was sent back by the Fusionist officials at Augusta with instructions to the Town Clerk, Bowler, to make out a new return with the name entered Andrew A. R. Smith. Bowler testified that he did this and identified the second return upon which he had signed the names of the Selectmen with his own hand. This return was used to divert the vote of Somerville from Senator Smith and he was thereby counted out.

Now Fogg has the impudence to pretend that in some way this false return upon which the Fusion Council counted-out a Republican Senator, was procured of the Town Clerk by Republicans, and he makes a great parade of an affidavit he has obtained from Bowler, the Fusion Town Clerk, as his proof of the silly charge. But Bowler's affidavit states a very different thing, viz: that "after the election" by request of the Postmaster he "made out a copy of the record" to be sent to Andrew Lacy, a member of the Republican State Committee.

Nothing could more completely explode Fogg's stupid allegation. It is a matter of common knowledge that so long "after the election" as the latter part of November the Republican State Committee sent out blanks to obtain sworn "copies of the records" of the elections in every town in the State, to be used before the Governor and Council in correcting errors according to law, which privilege was refused. Such copies were obtained but they were no more like an official Senatorial return than chalk is like cheese. A Senatorial return contains nothing but the statement of the vote for Senators duly attested, while the copies of the record contained a full transcript of all the votes recorded, including those for Governor, Senators, Representatives, County officers, &c., and these copies were sworn to before a Justice of the Peace.

It is but a sample of the insolence of unpunished crime, therefore, for Fogg to come forward with the preposterous charge that a certified copy of a town record obtained by Republicans was the Senatorial return to which Bowler confesses having forged the names of the Selectmen, and upon which a Republican Senator was counted-out by Fogg and his pals!

And yet that is as sensible as anything in the ten columns of farrago printed by one of the exposed swindlers, who denounces Messrs. Ingalls and Hill, the Fusion members who signed the minority report, as "stool-pigeons" and "under the control of Blaine." No decent man can fail to be disgusted with the kind of politics that makes a leader of such a creature as this Fogg.

WALLACE AS A REFORMER.

Senator Coffee-pot Wallace, of Pennsylvania, has reported a bill to fine and imprison any officer or employe of the United States who shall give, lend, advance or pay any money with the intent, permission or understanding that it shall be applied to or for "any political purpose whatsoever," or who shall himself apply the same to any political purpose. In other words Mr. Wallace and his Democratic associates propose that if any American citizen who happens to hold any office under the Government shall contribute toward hiring a hall for a public meeting, or shall even buy a copy of a political paper to mail to a voter, or hire a team to take a disabled neighbor to the polls, he shall be punished by imprisonment not exceeding six months and in the discretion of the Court by a fine not exceeding $5,000, and in addition shall forever thereafter be disqualified from holding any office of profit or trust under the United States. That is about the most barefaced specimen of Democratic demagogism ever exhibited in the Senate. It is worthy of the man who flooded Pennsylvania with coffee-stained bogus naturalization papers.

MICHIGAN FOR BLAINE.

[From the Detroit Post and Tribune.]

During the past week the number of responses from our subscribers on the Presidential question has not been as great as during previous weeks, and the total number received covers only about one-sixth of the Michigan subscribers to our weekly edition. The cards have, however, come from all sections of the State, and are thoroughly representative in character. The figures, up to Wednesday evening, March 31st, are as follows:

James G. Blaine,	3,802
Ulysses S. Grant,	683
John Sherman,	76
Elihu B. Washburne,	42
Thomas W. Ferry,	10
James A. Garfield,	12
Rutherford B. Hayes,	12
George F. Edmunds,	10

So far as the Presidency is concerned, the expressions of preference which we have received agree with almost all the canvasses taken on a smaller scale in the State, in showing that the Republican sentiment here is decidedly in favor of Blaine.

A Chicago letter to the N. Y. Tribune gives a list of the replies received from representative Republicans in each County of Illinois, as to the sentiment in regard to Presidential candidates, and they "show the sentiment to be overwhelmingly for Blaine, and if the machine does not succeed in smothering the popular voice in Convention, the delegates chosen to the Chicago Convention will be against a third term for Grant."

The funeral of the late Commodore Edward Barrett of the navy took place at New York Saturday.

COST OF THE CONSPIRACY TO STEAL THE STATE.

[From the Kennebec Journal.]

The expense to the State of the Fusion conspiracy to steal the government by a fraudulent count, is only partially known. As early as October, there began to be irregular drafts upon the treasury. In that month $1,000 was paid to E. F. Pillsbury & Co., for which no voucher can be found at the State House. In November and December there were sums drawn by the Governor, amounting to $7,000, for which no bills were presented. When ex-Gov. Garcelon was questioned about this money by the Hale Committee, he acknowledged that he used nearly $4,000 in paying Capt. Black's illegal force at the State House, and that he kept the balance of the money, and paid some bills with it after his term expired. By the same rule he might, with equal proprity, have drawn enough—if he could find it in the treasury—to have paid himself and his Council, and the mock legislature, their salaries for 1880, besides the bills for services of as many lawyers and detectives as he might choose to employ.

But beside the money which Garcelon took from the treasury and squandered upon his hirelings and associates in the infamous counting-out conspiracy, was the cost to the State honestly incurred of preventing the overthrow of the State government by the desperate conspiracy under Garcelon and his Council. To pay this expense the sum of $18,000 was voted by the Legislature. This was the price of the rescue of the State from the robber hands of the counting-out conspirators. Taxpayers will not forget that it was the outrageous conspiracy against a free ballot and a fair count which made this expense necessary. It was a part of the reform legacy left the State by the defunct Fusion party.

The Maine Standard publishes the bills thus incurred to save the State from the rapacious clutches of Garcelon, Pillsbury & Co. To that no Republican objects. It is right that the people should know what the counting-out conspiracy from first to last, cost the State. For every dollar of this, whatever the sum may be, the party of which the Standard is an organ is wholly responsible. Had Garcelon and Council counted the returns fairly all this expense would have been spared the tax-payers. Every intelligent man knows this; every honest Democrat admits and laments it.

One thing the Standard has not done which it ought to do—explain how the $1000 came to be drawn by E. F. Pillsbury and Co., what it was drawn for and why no vouchers for it are to be found. We hope E. F. Pillsbury and Co., will not be as backward as Garcelon, who waited until he was made to feel that longer delay was dangerous and then told the unwilling tale and disgorged the "unexpended balance" of the State's money which he had wrongfully taken from the treasury and wrongfully kept nearly three months after his term of office as Governor expired. See his disgraceful confession before the Hale Committee as it was reported in our columns of March 17th.

Hale—"Now, what I want to know is whether, after your term of office expired on the midnight of January 7th, you have paid money to any parties for services rendered the State?"

Garcelon—"I have."

Hale—"Do you think that you had a right to set yourself up as an agent of the State to pay bills which had been contracted after your term of office expired?"

Garcelon—"Under ordinary circumstances, no."

Hale—"Upon what authority did you pay these bills?"

Garcelon—"Well, common sense?"

Hale—"So you think you acted with common sense?"

Garcelon—"I do."

Hale—"Don't you know that it is a matter of history that Charles H. White was in the peaceable possession of the State treasury during all these troublesome times, and that you had no right to take money with you, but should have left it in his possession?"

Garcelon—"This was an extraordinary time. There were certain parties who were owed money by the State, and I had the money in my hands to pay these men."

Hale—"Was it your business, after your term of office expired, to pay bills against the State?"

Garcelon—"Well, if you put it in that way, I can't say that I had."

Hale—"Don't you think that the State of Maine could run if you had not paid a dollar to a man after your term of office had expired, but had returned to your legitimate business at Lewiston?"

Garcelon—"I presume so."

We repeat, the Republicans are entirely willing that all bills incurred for the defence of the State since the government came into their hands shall be subjected to the closest scrutiny. There is no secrecy about these bills; they may be seen and copied by as many Fusion editors as desire that privilege—if it be a privilege. They are a part of the cost of saving the State from anarchy, and no decent Democrat can look upon them except with shame.

[From the Boston Journal.]

DEMOCRATS IN DISGUISE.

The Young Republican Committee, if they are really responsible for the assaults upon Gen. Grant and Senator Blaine, published in the Herald, should have put their names to them, that the public might know just whom the authors are. We doubt if half of the committee would sign or sanction such an issue of Democratic campaign literature, and we venture the statement that the particular person or persons who have given their time to the compilation of these papers in such a manner as to reflect upon the purposes of Gen. Grant and Mr. Blaine would vote for Mr. Bayard in preference to any Republican now named as a candidate, except, perhaps, Mr. Edmunds, and it may be added that no Republican in the country holds such political bigots in greater contempt than does Senator Edmunds himself. We would venture the further prediction that the person or persons who prepared these remarkable documents either voted for Tilden in 1876 or gave their influence in his favor. The authors are not content with assailing Gen. Grant and Mr. Blaine, but by making a list of the honorable names of Gen. Grant's Cabinet officers, leads the reader to infer that such men as Lot M. Morrill of Maine, Alphonso Taft of Ohio, Zachariah Chandler of Michigan, and Edwards Pierrepont of New York, are unworthy men. We would inform those men who thus assail Republican leaders that their zeal to inflict injury upon the Republican cause exceeds both their discretion and their ability. When these gentlemen have another document to issue let them append their names thereto.

GARCELON'S GRAB.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

When Garcelon left the office of Governor of Maine he took with him, without permission of anybody, $5,000 of the State's money. He had no more right to it than any other citizen. He used more than half of it to reward his personal friends for their services to him in his unsuccessful effort to steal the State, and the remainder, $925, he has just returned to the State Treasurer with a note stating that it is the "unexpended balance of money placed in my hands for public purposes." Who "placed" it in his hands, and what were the "public purposes"? He has given no vouchers for his expenditures, and the State has nothing to show for the missing money. And he is the man whom an admiring Democracy unanimously elected its "second Jackson!"

OUR NATIONAL PLATFORM.

Those who remember how roundly THE WHIG AND COURIER was berated for opposing the Southern Conciliation Policy and persisting in the demand for National protection of the lives and inalienable rights of American citizens, have long since noted the abandonment of the policy and the return of the Republican leaders and press to the platform upon which THE WHIG had kept somewhat lonely vigils for nearly two years.

As a peculiarly significant evidence of the renewed allegiance to the time-honored principles we have constantly maintained, we cite the fact that Secretary Sherman, the most prominent member of President Hayes' Cabinet, in a letter to a German Republican Club in New York a few days ago, laid down the following as the imperative needs of the country:

First—The extension of the system of free public schools throughout the whole country, open to every child of the proper age.

Second—The full protection of every citizen of the United States by the National Government in every legal right conferred upon him by the Constitution of the United States, and against injustice and violence, whether committed by authority of a State, or by a mob, or by a person. The enforcement of political and civil rights conferred by the Constitution cannot be transferred to local prejudice or passion.

Third—The maintenance of a sound currency based upon coin or upon notes always redeemable in coin, and the religious observance of the public faith, to be carefully guarded against all threat or suspicion of evasion or repudiation.

In his second plank the Secretary has literally echoed the sentiments uttered by THE WHIG throughout the period of conciliation.

"Perley" writes in his Friday special to the Boston Journal: "Senator Hamlin has been greatly congratulated to-day on the confirmation of William D. Hubbard of Bangor, as a census supervisor. Senator Pendleton, Chairman of the Committee on the Census, had reported against the confirmation of Mr. Hubbard on political grounds, but Senator Hamlin's personal popularity enabled him to secure Democratic votes enough, with the aid of the Republicans, to confirm the nomination."

THE GENEVA AWARD BILL. The Tribune's Washington special of Saturday said:

"Senator Blaine has been very persistent in trying to get the Senate to go on with the consideration of the Geneva Award bill, and bring it to final action as speedily as possible. Almost every day for a fortnight he has called attention to the way in which this important matter has been pushed aside. Senator Thurman, who is in charge of the measure, has seemed anxious, though in a less degree, to bring the matter to an issue; but one thing after another intervenes. It stands now as 'temporarily laid aside' until the Ute Agreement bill is disposed of, which may be on next Monday."

The defendant offered to be defaulted for the amount found due by the auditor, and the offer not having been accepted, the matter was argued as to the law in the case and the court sustained the auditor's report and the evidence upon the various points was put in and submitted to the jury. Verdict for plaintiff, $841 65.

Chapin, of Dover, and C. H Higbee, of watertown, Mass., are also defendants in the suit. Benjamin Gage, was a receipter for W. J. Sutherland for cheating by false representation in asserting that Mr. Gage was worth $10,000. Mr. Gage now brings a suit for $30.000 damages on account of the assertions of that indictment. Messrs. Shaw and Sprague were brought before Judge Fox on a writ of habeas corpus and required to give bail in $250 each for further appearance. Friday evening a despatch was received from J. B. Peaks, County Attorney at Dover, saying: "If W. J. Sutherland is in Portland have him detained until I can send an officer with capias or telegraph me."

A VICTIM OF APRIL FIRST. A young railroad conductor on the Maine Central Railroad was neatly fooled Thursday. He stops at a hotel in Augusta, and some one entered his room and set his watch ahead two hours, and also the hotel clock. Ye Knight of the lantern came rushing down stairs, grabbed a glass of milk and rapidly engulped it, and sped for the depot as if his reputation was at stake, which it was—in his mind. He got down to the depot (followed by the conspirator) and tore round excitedly because his engineer was not on hand, and everyone but him appeared to be in a Rip Van Winkle state. The switch was thrown over, and all the little minutia of the business looked after as would be done by a faithful employe. After waiting and raving around the depot for about half an hour, it dawned upon the befogged mind of our young Adonis that it was the first of April and he was the first victim with no danger of being "counted-out." And then, in the gleam of the morning, with the little "stars" twinkling down upon him, he registered a solemn oath, with a cast iron slant on his otherwise mobile physiognoming to be revenged.—Bath Times.

The Seer of Atkinson.

ATKINSON, March 31, 1880.

Mr. Editor—Sir: I noticed in the Bangor Commercial of the issue of March 19th, a prophetic annunciation from the mouth of the "Young Seer," O. W. Trask, which perhaps need a reply. The duplicity of the old prophet Balam was rebuked by his Ass. This young Seer very like old Balam entered into an enterprise for gain, and his infatuation became such, that as from the heights of his reverie he anticipated the gatherings of his "golden toed" flocks, he was constrained to break forth in prophetic language, "My flocks, my flocks, how hath my flocks increased. My lands are full of fatness, and the rocks send me rivers of Oil." What shall I do with my gains? This I am resolved to do: I will tear down my old garners and will build larger, even 120 by 57, that I may have wherein to store my gains. To which the entire herd as by one consent answered—ba. Heeding not the rebuke of his more wise cotemporaries, he persisted in following after his flocks expecting to gather up bricks of silver and nuggets of gold, when lo! his herd commenced again to rebuke the young Seer's credulity with the cry of ba ba-a-a-a, which so stirred the soul of the prophet, that he cried out in the bitterness of his soul in the familiar words, "great cry and little wool." Hence the title of his communication. Result of his first attempt in prophecy. More carcases for Boomer, than nuggets for the Seer. The Seer mixes in some truth (with more error) in announcing that the Republicans had carried the town by a majority of from twenty-five to thirty seven on a full vote, which was the result on two elections for twenty-two years, in which he had lived in town, forgetting or refusing to state the fact that he had voted with the Republicans twenty-one years out of the twenty-two. But lo! and behold! after the Fusionists (by surprise, as he says,) carried the town by twenty-two majority in Sept. 1878, the young Seer had another revelation to the effect that the —— Republicans were the authors of the late rebellion and all the calamities that followed in its train, which revelation he communicated to the Fusionists three days before the spring elections of 1879, the Fusionists then and there promising him, providing he would not reveal his revelation, thereby discovering the real symptom of his unwardness, they would make him chairman of the board of selectmen; by placing in nomination for the second on the board a known Republican, they easily redeemed their pledge to the Seer by Republican voters who had not been led into the secrets of the new revelation. The scheme so well succeeded that the young Seer waxed stronger and stronger in his advanced position; he had not only a farther revelation reaffiming the above, but that there was to be a general stampede from the Republican ranks over to the new departure and more particularly in the town of Atkinson, that when his vision was made known and a public declaration of his position declared, the stampede would immediately take place, and foremost of all his military squad would lead in the van. In process of time the young Seer became so overcharged with the pressure of his burthen that he cried out in exultation of his joy, how goodly are the valuless of thy values; O thou Greenback, come forth in countless numbers and the multitudes of starving Republicans shall bow to thy sceptre and feed upon thy shadow. The Seer having announced his message, waited for its fulfilment. The sun rose and set, the moon waned, the leaves stirred in the zephyr, the rivulets glided down their wonted courses—in a word the world wagged on, and "no sound of horses nor chariots from the tops of the mulberry trees" broke on the ears of the Seer to still his anxious solicitude to realize the fulfilment of his vision. Still he waited—waited anxiously, and with eyes extended and ears upturned to catch the first sound of hope, he cried out in the bitterness of disappointment, "where is my squad?" and echo answered, "where?"

The crest-fallen Seer, mad with disappointment, and seeking for revenge upon the lying spirit that had twice so falsely spoken through him, said within himself, "I am chairman of the judges of election, and this will I do. It has been announced that my squad will follow me, and if it followeth me not I am ruined. I will count in my squad, so upon election day," says the Seer, "who can say nothing is not something, if the judges of electors so declare? No one. My squad must be counted in from nothing." So he counted in nothing and named it Charley, and the boys added squad, which gave the Fusionists 11 majority, and the Seer added his Democratic or Fusion vote for the first time giving them 12 majority—that is—nothing—called Charley, the squad, and the Seer, the author of counting in the squad for 1, with his own vote 1 makes 2, if 0 and 1 makes 2, as the Seer declared, added to 10 makes 12, so the Seer is right, according to his arithmetic. But reporter No. 1 demurs, and says 0 and 1 does not make 2, but 1 added to 10 makes 11 majority, so both are correct, according to their reasoning. But I conclude the lying spirit has somewhat addled the vision of the Seer. Those who understand the management of the Atkinson board will appreciate the Seer's arithmetic of "counting in." "The counting out" arithmetic had not been issued at the time the Seer made his new method of "counting in"

Now about the spring election, when the Seer says "the Fusionists were caught napping"—ah, napping—very much as the fox, leaping for the grapes a little too high for his benefit, tired and disappointed he turned away, saying, "you are sour and not worth the trouble to take."

Night after night the emissaries, aids and aid-de-camps of the Seer were out amongst the elements of Fusionists, trying to rally their discouraged and breaking ranks for the annual election, peddling any report and making any promise that might possibly save a vote; they held a night caucus at the Seer's house. It was during the days in which the board was making up their report, and one of the associates being a Republican and also a bachelor guest, he had to be disposed of. And the Seer, equal to the occasion, in duplicity threw himself into his arm chair saying, "Oh, how tired I am. My brain needs rest; I must enjoy rest this evening." His friend took the hint that his host was willing, at least, to part with company for the evening, so took lodgings with a neighboring friend, that the Seer might recuperate his exhausting energies in the quiet of repose. The way was clear. The savans with their attendants flocked in; the situation was fully canvassed. The importance of holding the canvassing board was understood, and after full deliberation a board of town officers were agreed upon, all Fusion of the most availing elements, and avowing secrecy and each taking and giving methods of generalship, they congratulated themselves on an easy and sure victory.

Thursday morning, the Republicans, hearing some boasting from Fusion headquarters, called a caucus, giving public notice of time and place of meeting, and openly and manfully, and with assurance of success, and in the presence of spies sent in, passed a resolution pledging the election of our nominees.

We met, and by our action reaffirmed our resolution. If the fox could have reached the grapes they would not have been sour, If the Fusionists had carried the election they would not have declared napping.

Now comes the third vision. Saith the Seer, "I hereby give notice to reporter No. 2 that there will be a resurrection in September next, and the Republicans will be buried more than twelve feet deep on that day," &c. Well, Patrick Henry says, "We have no way of judging of the future, but by the past." Judging this prediction by the result of the previous prophetic utterances of the Seer, we can at least take five months' rest before our burial, and then fall back on our chances and enjoy an indefinite period. The Seer seems to have great anxiety that the "clap-trap was not intended for this particular locality." Now I know not who No. 1 or No. 2 reporters are, but I desire very much to relieve the mind of the Seer from all unnecessary disquietude, and I will assure him that it was intended for this locality and this only And I will further inform the Seer that the "Honest Truth" of counting in and counting out "where the facts are known" in this and other localities, have had its effects by turning back into the hands of the Republicans nearly one hundred towns within the State with Atkinson among the number. Now let me say in closing that the people in their majority and strength have cast the Garcelons, Foggs, Moodys, &c, &c, and all workers of abominations with the False Prophet into a sea of anxiety, disappointment and shame from which only honest confession and pure amendment can restore to the enjoyment of respectable citizenship.

J. H. RAMSDELL.

P. S. The Republicans did not boast of being able to carry the town last fall, but on the contrary reported to State Committee from ten to fifteen Fusion majority probably.

and Limbs. Obliged to go about on Crutches. A wonderful cure.

Messrs Weeks & Potter Gentlemen,—In justice to those who may suffer as I have suffered, and as a grateful acknowledgement of the cure I have received from the use of the Cuticura Remedies, I voluntarily make the following statement:

I have had Salt Rheum on my body and on one leg in a very aggravated form for eight years No kind of treatment, or medicine, or doctors, during this time, did me any permanent good. My friends in Malden and elsewhere know that I have been a great sufferer, and that my condition at time has been such as to make me despair of ever being able to find a cure or even a relief. In fact, when I began the use of Cuticura, my limb was so raw and tender that I could not bear my weight upon it without the skin cracking and bleeding, and was obliged to go about on crutches I commenced to use the Cuticura, April 4, 1878, and from the first its beneficial effects It gradually drew the inflammation and humor to the surface, and, as fast as it appeared, healed it At times the humor would come to the surface, causing burning heat, inflammation, swelling, and itching, which, under the constant use of Cuticura, would speedily subside and heal. Each time these outbreaks grew less and less severe and finally disappeared, leaving me perfectly cured. I used the cuticura five months and took the resolvent most of the time, which we e the only remedies I used I think the Resolvent a very strengthening and purifying medicine to take after the use of so much blood, because the dis ase is so weakening to the system Very gratefully yours,

MRS. CLARA S BROWN

ECZEMA OF THE HANDS

Cured. Interesting Letter from a well known Attorney.

Editor New Orleans Picayune Sir,—Since the fall of 1867, up to the last three weeks, I have been troubl d with an eruption on the hands which the doctors called by various names, but which is generally known by the name of Eczema or Salt Rheum. The pain, which was intense, in the hands, which at times, especially during the winter time, were very sore.

At times the disease threatened to spread from my hands and envelop my whole body Doctors have been consulted in Philadelphia, Washington and in this city, with no more success than in temporary relief After considerable expense, and much pain and suffering, I had come to the conclusion that, wound, as the saying goes, have to grin and bear it.

About four weeks ago I read in the Picayune the advertisement of Cuticura, for sale by a druggist I knew druggists, Mr Lyons, and resolved to try it. I purchased a fifty cent box, and before it was half used the disease completely disappeared, and I feel certain that mine is a permanent cure

My object in sending you this letter is to make known to others the value of Cuticura, and thus benefit, if ever so little, suffering humanity Yours truly, P P CARROLL,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law
